REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. This is an Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance. The closest prior art Doyle (U.S. Pat. No. 5,233,513) discloses microprocessor manipulated program which extracts the data inherent in the cognitive process leading to the spoken or written word and converts that data into business models capable of defining the interrelationship and functions of a business.

Kakita et al JP09237181A discloses a template retrieving that includes a template data file and displays template.

IBM Technical Disclosure Bulletin discloses a data model for a relational database.

However, neither Doyle nor Kakita and IBM Technical Disclosure Bulletin singularly or in combination fail to anticipate or render obvious the recited feature:

As per claims 1, 10 and 23 " displaying a plurality of task objects on a computer display screen, displaying a process map design palette on the computer display screen, selecting a first task object from the displayed plurality of task objects, adding the first task object to the process map design palette, and storing the process map in a business model database".

Conclusion

2. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Pierre E. Elisca whose telephone number is 703 305-3987. The examiner can normally be reached on 6:30 to 5:00.
